WILL BRYAN COME?

Democratic Committee Traces Nebraskan to Washington.

A Strong Effort Will be Made to Induce Him to Come to Norfolk and Speak to the People—Meeting of Ways and Means Committee Last Night.

Every effort is being made to get the Hon. William Jennings Bryan to deliver an address in Norfolk. The telegraph wires were kept busy with messages from this city trying to locate the great statesman. It was learned by wire finally that he would be in Washington to-day.

An adjourned meeting of the Ways and Means Committee, appointed by the City Democratic Executive Committee and the Third Ward Democratic Club, to ascertain the amount of money that would be necessary to pay the expenses of Mr. Bryan's visit, was held at the club rooms last night at 7:30 o'clock.

The committee reported their ability to locate Mr. Bryan, further that a that he would be in the Nation's Capital today. They were instructed to use every effort to communicate with him in Washington, and invite him to Norfolk.

There is every reason to believe that the great leader of Democracy will accept the invitation of the committee and come to Norfolk as the guest of the Democrats of this city.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.
If the invitation is accepted a committee consisting of three Democrats from each ward, and as many citizens as may wish to accompany them, will go to Richmond to-morrow morning and invite Mr. Bryan in person to come to Norfolk.

The committee, as appointed, is as follows:
First Ward—A. Lagorio, W. G. Pettis,
R. R. Pitt.

Second Ward—W. L. Stevens, A. J.
Dalton, W. W. Day.

Third Ward—T. J. Randolph, W. W.
Sale, John O. Pitt.

Fourth Ward—W. H. Jaques, N. B.
Joynes, J. F. East.

Fifth Ward—J. A. Butt, George Baer, J. S. Groves.

Sixth Ward—Nat Dalby, W. T. Anderson, H. V. Vail.

It is understood that Mayor C.
Brooks Johnston and Mr. George H.
Dawes will accompany the committee.
A representative from each of the municipalities was also invited to accompany them.

There is no assurance yet as to the exact date of Mr. Bryan's visit, even should he accept the invitation to come here.

Colonel Sale said they would be glad to get him within thirty days, but hoped they would be able to get him here the latter part of this week.

PLACE OF MEETING.
The Armory Hall has been selected as the place where Mr. Bryan will deliver his speech, and plans drawn by Mr. Alexander Nugent were exhibited at the meeting last night, showing the seating capacity of the hall and the way seats should be arranged.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr.
Nugent for his trouble.

MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.
A meeting of the committee appointed to go to Richmond will be held this afternoon at the office of Colonel W. W.
Sale, room 34 Lowenberg building.

THE CITY GUARDS.
MUSTERED INTO THE SERVICE OF THE STATE.

Friday night the Norfolk City Guard was mustered into the service of the State by Colonel J. Lane Stern, Assistant Inspector General.

Forty-five men were out and took the oath of allegiance to serve the Commonwealth of Virginia. Following are the officers: Captain, B. W. Salomon-sky; First Lieutenant, George T. Lay-lor; Second Lieutenant, G. H. Gale.

Colonel H. Hodges, Captain T. J. Nottingham, Major Marshall Tarrall, Captain V. C. Burrow and Lieutenants Curds and Wright were present to greet Colonel Stern and witness the mustered in.

THE RIFLES.
The Lee Rifles will hold an important meeting in the Armory Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Street Fair Project.
The committee of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association having the matter of the proposed street fair in hand met last night and discussed the matter for about two hours. Mr.
Frank W. Gaskill, manager of the Canton Carnival Company, of Canton, O., was present. Several propositions are under consideration and it may be said that prospects now seem to favor the carrying out of the project.

Prompt Insurance Payment by the Equitable.

Norfolk, Va., February 10, 1900.
Maj. A. Myers, Manager Equitable Life, Norfolk, Va.:

Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the Equitable's check for $10,937, same being in full for policy on the life of the late Thomas R. Borland, who was insured in several companies, but the Equitable is the first to pay. The proofs of death were only handed to you on the 7th, and the Equitable's check is dated on the 8th, and such prompt payment on the part of the Equitable should, in my opinion, speak volumes in its favor with the insuring public.

Thanking you personally for your prompt attention in this matter, I remain,
Yours truly,
ARMSTEAD BORLAND.
Executor of Estate Thos. R. Borland, Deceased.

Remarkable Progress.

In these days of fast printing presses, when vast fields of thought are transferred to paper, it is strange to think that the beginning of all the complicated machinery used for the printing of books, periodicals, etc., was so recent as the "good old times" of one hundred years ago.

Hence the nineteenth century will be perpetuated in history as one of remarkable achievement. And no less remarkable is the fact that giant strides have been made in job printing. New and modern methods have been adopted, and now tons of printing can be turned out with such amazing facility as to render a comparison with the methods of the olden times useless.

In this connection it may be chronicled that the popular printing house of Messrs. Burke & Gregory is actually kept abreast with the improved condition of things.

Established in 1888, Burke & Gregory have kept in the front rank with the leading establishments in Virginia and the South. Their yearly increase in business has given them a prestige to be proud of, and it is gratifying to note that the work they do is not strictly confined to the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Berkeley, but that large quantities are sent into other States, South and West. So great has been their success that they were compelled to seek better and more capacious quarters. Early in the fall of 1899 the firm leased the spacious building on the corner of Plume and Randolph streets and at once had the building remodelled to suit their purposes.

On the first of December last they took possession of their new quarters, and so great has been the demand upon them for work, both in their job printing and bookbinding departments, that they have been compelled to keep a very large force employed.

A description of their well-ordered establishment will not be out of place.

On entering the business office, on the corner of Randolph street, you will be royally welcomed by one of the firm. They are practical men, and constantly busy, but always find time to suggest to every patron the best and most economical manner in which to have their printing or binding done.
The courteous clerical force make it pleasant for all customers to transact business at their office, which always wears a cheerful and inviting appearance.

A few steps forward and you are ushered into the press-room, where you will behold a formidable array of the latest offerings of press-builders, capable of printing everything pertaining to the art—from the smallest card to the largest book known to the trade.
The workmen in this department are thoroughly practical, having a full knowledge of the best mode of applying printers' ink, as is demonstrated daily by the work executed. It covers a space of 80x11 feet, and is supplied with every contrivance needed. It is a modern press-room in every particular.

On the same floor your attention will be attracted to the immense quantity of papers and card stock, neatly and conveniently arranged. This is the stock department, where many hundreds of dollars' worth of material is always kept, so as to be ready for any emergency.

Altogether, Burke & Gregory's establishment is a valued acquisition to Norfolk's vast and growing industries, and the firm is to be heartily congratulated for their indomitable pluck, perseverance and enterprise.

Practical men and practical measures will always achieve grand results.

The composing-room and bindery, occupying the second floor, are models of neatness, convenience and good arrangement. There is ample space, splendid light and abundance of material—three grand requisites for the prompt dispatch of large orders of printing and binding—and the capable force of employees prove themselves equal to the task.

These departments have an up-to-date air about them that reflects much credit upon their proprietors.

In the composing-room a pleasant scene greets the eye. There are from ten to fifteen compositors regularly employed, and the click of the type all along the spacious alleys lends a sound harmonious to the ear. There are new and magnificent cabinets, convenient imposing stones, the latest fashions of type, and everything the printers need to dexterously execute their work.
The excellent facilities of the bindery have been still further augmented by the addition of several useful and costly machines for folding, stitching, &c., and the operatives therein employed—eight in number—can be seen at great advantage rapidly turning out the work as it is sent to their department.

TEN TO TWO

Ten Jurors in Favor of Finding Flemming Guilty.

Two Were For Acquittal—The Next Trial Opens at Princess Anne Court House March 5th—Flemming Bailed Until Monday.

The jury in the Flemming murder case about 11:30 a. m. yesterday announced to the court that its members could not agree on a verdict. The jury stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal.

The court then discharged the jury and fixed the date for beginning the next trial for March 5th.

The court then fixed the sum required for bail at $10,000, and Flemming secured as bondsmen Mr. Walter Cas-son, keeper of one of the stores at Princess Anne, and Mr. Kellam, proprietor of the other store at Princess Anne. The bond runs only until tomorrow, when it is expected that a new bond will be given.

The jury was out from 5 to 7 p. m.
Friday, and from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. yesterday.

The prosecution was closed Friday by Mr. Harry K. Wolcott, of Wolcott & Wolcott, in a brilliant address of forty-five minutes' duration, the balance of the time allowed for the prosecution. Mr. Wolcott made a deep impression on all in the court, and the spectators began to applaud him (a very unusual thing in a courtroom), but the applause was suppressed by the court.

Colonel McIntosh also made a fine closing address for the defense, and spoke for one hour.

Flemming came up to Norfolk on the 2:41 p. m. train and visited several friends here. His wife and daughters were at Princess Anne courthouse yesterday to await the result, but did not appear in the courtroom.

AS RIOUS CHARGE.

DEPUTY U. S. MARSHAL WEST FINDS HIS MAN.

R. J. Jones was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshal West on a warrant charging him for using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes.

The Federal authorities have been looking for Jones for some time, and while engaged in collecting his mail in the postoffice yesterday he was arrested on the serious charge stated above.

The complainant against the accused is Postoffice Inspector J. H. C. Wilson,
is Postoffice Inspector J. H. C. Wilson, who, it is understood, will endeavor to prove that Jones has been impersonating a firm that does not exist, the name of which is similar to that of one of Norfolk's leading business houses.

The fraud perpetrated by Jones is said to amount to $30,000 or $40,000. He is also alleged to have represented himself to be a leading capitalist of this city, and sent letters from leading citizens corroborating this claim.

Besides the charge of fraud, Jones will be arraigned on several other counts, all of which will be tried in the United States Court.

Jones will probably have a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Bowden to-morrow.
